100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY on the 25th of April last, a man called NED, formerly the property of Mr. Fitzhugh, of Fairfax, and by him sold to Hepburn & Dundas. He had on when he went away an old country blue and white cloth coat, and kersey trowsers—his right hand in a sling, in consequence of the kick of a horse. Ned is a stupid looking fellow, and hesitates very much when he speaks. I will give fifty dollars if apprehened in the District, or the above reward for apprehending him out of the District, so that I get him again.

Missouri and Illinois Bounty Lands

THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. Every person who visits the Western Country, particularly those who intend settling there, should take with them a few quarter sections of those lands; every man who has a young and growing family, and can spare a few hundred dollars, should not miss the present opportunity of getting some of those lands; as it will insure to his children a greater certainty than any other investment he can possibly make for their benefit.—From the immense emigration to both Illinois and Missouri, particularly to the military lands, it is certain there must be a great rise in the price very soon, and those who miss the present opportunity, will never again have a chance to do so well. The patents will be sold very low, for cash, good notes or bonds at short dates, or bank stock in the Central Bank of Georgetown and Washington, and the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown. As I am a large dealer in Military Bounty Lands, I can supply any number that may be required.

Please to apply at my Exchange Banking House, Bridge street, Georgetown.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2.

THE WINTER'S WALK.
BY DR. JOHNSON.

Behold, my fair, where'er we rove,
What dreary prospects round us rise;
The naked hill, the leafless grove,
The hoary ground, the frowning skies;

Not only through the wasted plain,
Stern winter, is thy force confessed;
Still wider spreads thy horrid reign,
I fell thy power usurp my breast.

Enliv'ning hope and fond desire,
Resign the heart to spleen and care,
Scarce frighted love maintains her fire,
And rapture saddens to despair.

In groundless hope, and causeless fear,
Unhappy man! behold thy doom,
Still changing with the change of year,
The slave of sunshine and of gloom.

Tir'd with vain joys, and false alarms,
With mental and corporeal strife,
Snatch me, my Stella, to thy arms,
And screen me from the ills of life.

When men of infamy to grandeur soar,
They light a torch to show their shame the more.

The influence of Climate on the Strength and Courage of Man.

"We may assert with great confidence that the keen air of Germany formed the large masculine limbs of the natives, who were in general of a more lofty stature than the people of the south, gave them a kind of strength better adapted to violent exertions than to patient labor, and inspired them with constitutional bravery, which is the result of nerves and spirits. The severity of a winter campaign, that chilled the courage of the Roman troops, was scarcely felt by these hardy children of the Danube, who in their turn were unable to resist the summer heats, and dissolved away in languor and sickness under the beams of an Italian sun. Gibbon.

Times change, and opinions change with them.

In 1819 colonel Long receives the title of a patriot leader, and good wishes for success, for the same enterprise which only seventeen years ago fixed the stigma of traitor on colonel Burr, and for which he was arrested, and came very near being hanged.

It is said when the infidel wit, Rochester, the favorite companion of our then 'most religious and gracious sovereign king Charles II. of blessed memory,' met the acute Dr. Barrow at court, he bowed sarcastically to him, and said—'Dr. Barrow, your humble servant' 'My Lord, your most obedient,' was the reply that attended a bow, to say the least, as low as the nobleman's. 'Dr. Barrow, your humble serv't down to the ground,' said the earl. 'My Lord, your most obedient to the Antipodes,' replied the divine. The wit, stung with the idea of being outwitted, fled, like some would-be wits, to profaneness as a refuge, and said, 'Dr. Barrow, I am your humble servant to the bottom of hell!' 'There, my Lord, I leave you,' said the Doctor,—'I have answered a fool according to his folly, lest he should be wise in his own conceit; but I answer not a fool according to his folly, lest I should be found like unto him.' [Evangelical Magazine.

PEDLARS.

The grand jury for the county of Wilkes, Georgia, have presented this class of traders, 'as a nuisance and a grievance to the community.' The following passage in the presentment, shows the light in which they consider pedlars. [Philadelphia Union.

In time of peace they are violating and interrupting the peaceable privileges of a settled community; in time of taxation, they are found skulking behind each other's licensed privileges; in times of war, they are flying in all directions from their acknowledged homes—absconding from their places, where their services legally might be required, and become, in fact, a corps of flying beggars, who swindle without mercy the superanuated and youthful, by imposing faulty goods on the ignorant and credulous; and in very many instances, within the information of this body, distribute not only depreciated but counterfeit currency. Inasmuch as these people are draining the country of its most active currency, and improperly interfere in the honest and established customs of settled merchants, who regularly pay their taxes and discharge their military duty; and they are as invariably found shrinking from a good answer to their country's call, for services, and slily avoid the payment of lawful taxes on their poll and stock in trade: and further, as they greatly encourage unlawful traffic with slaves on the Sabbath, we hope the senators and representatives for this county, in the next state legislature, will cause every proper exertion to procure a suspension of the privileges of peddling in this state, under any common restrictions.

ALEXANDRIA:
SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 2.

Twenty new cases of fever were reported in Baltimore, within the 24 hours ending on Thursday morning.

In New-York no new case of fever was reported for the three days ending on Wednesday last at noon.

The annual election for delegates to the Maryland legislature takes place on Monday next. In many counties, the contest will be warm. Local circumstances, as is usual in such cases, have been introduced; and in Prince George county, it would appear that the political result is to depend upon a cash amount paid for repairing a warehouse! In some of the counties, the distinction of federalists and democrats has been lost sight of in the selection of able candidates, and in others, violent opposition has appeared between brethren of the same principle. "When Greek meets Greek, then comes the tug of war."

AMERICAN SUMMER FEVER.

The terms yellow, or contagious fever, says the Boston Gazette, as existing in this country, seem to be exploded; and the more rational definition given to them, of typhus or bilious, generally intermittent. The high state of malignancy which those diseases sometimes assume, in various shapes, is entirely local, and should cause no alarm to persons not within its immediate locality.—This fact is exemplified in the particular instance of Baltimore, where the inhabitants without the boundary of Fell's Point are unaffected by the fever, which has there proved very destructive.

Perhaps it would have been more correct to have named New-York as an instance of the correctness of the writer's hypothesis; as the malignant fever in Baltimore has extended throughout that city. A gentleman from thence informs us that cases have appeared in Howard street, which is at the opposite extremity from Fell's Point. The following is from the Intelligencer:

We observe, with deep regret, that the prevailing Malignant Fever, at Baltimore, is extending beyond those remote limits within which it has, until now, been confined. By a report to the Medical and Chirurgical Society of the city, from their committee, it appears that five cases of the fever had originated West of the Creek called Jones's Falls, and, of course, in the midst of the city. One of the cases had terminated fatally.

The sales of United States Bank Stock may afford a pretty correct view of commercial prosperity in the large cities. If this be admitted, it would appear that the times are improving. In New-York, on the 27th ult. 99 was offered, and 99¼ asked. It is at par in Charleston.

The territory of Michigan has combined the southern and northern modes of congressional nomination. We perceive by the Detroit Gazette that several gentlemen have offered themselves as the delegate to the national legislature; among others, the Hon. Wm. Woodbridge, whose self nomination was concurred in by a numerous meeting of the electors, convened for the purpose of nominating a candidate.

ITEMS OF NEWS.

The House of Assembly of Nova Scotia have passed a resolution, increasing the salaries of the members from 900*l.* to 1500*l.*

At a late suit in England, of a lady against a gentleman, for a breach of promise of marriage, she recovered 2,200 dollars; and in a suit of a gentleman against a lady, the plaintiff only recovered 90 dollars.

A sale of public land was held in the state of Illinois, in the Edwardsville district, during the three first weeks in August. The paper printed at that place says that 42,426 acres were sold at an average price of 2 dollars 15 cents per acre

Delegates were chosen on Monday last, throughout the District of Maine, for the purpose of forming a Constitution. The delegates will convene at Portland on the 11th of his month.

Two cases of malignant fever have occurred in Columbia, (South Carolina,) which the health report states to have been brought evidently from Charleston.

Gourlay, the Canadian exile, has arrived in New-York, and will probably take passage to England this autumn.

A peach was lately exhibited in the market-house at Richmond, which was 11 inches in circumference, and weighed 10 ounces.

We learn from Springfield, Clarke county, (Ohio) that a Silver Mine has been discovered in the neighborhood of Mechanicsburg, in that state. The proprietor is said to be a poor man, and made the discovery by digging a well on his premises. The ore is represented as pure, and the quantity great. [Philad. pap.

New-York Board of Health, Sept. 26.

Whereas it has been represented by the Health Officer, that Dr. L. C. Parker, a passenger in the sloop Orion, of Boston, has left the quarantine ground without the permission of the Health Officer. The Board of Health do, therefore, hereby offer a reward of one hundred dollars to any person who will give such information as will enable the Board to apprehend the said Parker, if in this city, and the sum of fifty dollars if elsewhere in this state, so that the said Parker may be convicted of said offence, and dealt with according to law.

ADOPTION.

A lark that survived its companions in a nest brought into a house in Georgia, continued about the house, and when another nest the next season was brought it, it adopted the brood and continued to feed them, when the account was given.

ILLINOIS.

We are informed, says the Illinois Emigrant, that a petition is about to be put in circulation, praying the governor to call an extra meeting of the legislature as early in the ensuing winter as may be found convenient.

To relieve the people from the oppressive taxes which the last legislature levied upon them, and to amend the judiciary law, are, we understand, the prominent and principal ends, proposed to be thereby effected.

From the New-York Gazette, August 28.

We have been favored with the following extract of a letter from Havana, dated the 12th inst.

"On the arrival of the troops from Cadiz, it was reported that a part of them was to be sent to Pensacola; but there seems to be no preparations for this; but I am inclined to doubt this report. Nothing of an important nature occurs.

"The American brig Spartan, Cooper, arrived here a day or two since, 98 days from Cadiz, in ballast, her cargo having been taken by the insurgent brig Criolla, (Dewater) supposed Spanish property. She was bound to Vera Cruz. The American ship Vermont has shared the same fate. Both vessels were discharged at Old Providence. The Spartan, it is said, belongs to Peter Harmony, of your city. Philadelphia flour 29 dols."

The ship Hector, Gillender, for Liverpool, sailed yesterday afternoon, but did not go to sea. It is said William Cobbett and family are passengers.

The ship Ann, Crocker, for Liverpool, also went down yesterday, but the wind being ahead, anchored below. About 100 passengers, recently arrived here, returned home in the Ann. [Ibid.

We have received, says the New-York Mercantile Advertiser, by the Messenger, Paris papers to the 12th August.

The King of Sweden has subscribed 2,000 francs towards the monument about to be erected in Paris, to the memory of Malsherbes. In his letter to the committee he thanks them for giving him this opportunity of proving his respect for the "legitimacy of sovereigns."

Private letters state that the good understanding between the courts of Sweden and Russia, is better than ever.

It is said that the King of Spain has dispatched three members of the supreme council, to make particular enquiry into the cause of the late tumult at Cadiz.

The first of the Swiss columns about to embark for Brazil, is encamped near Dortrecht, in Holland; each of them receives from the king of Portugal a florin per day during the voyage.

Tranquillity is somewhat re-established in Old Prussia. The political storm appears to have raged particularly in Silesia. At Breslau, the governor has not dared, it is said, to disarm the Landwehr.

Frankfort, July 30.—They write from Manheim that Sandt, the assassin of Kotzebue, is well enough to walk about his chamber, but his recovery is despaired of.

Charleston, (S. C.) Sept. 24.

Accounts from the kingdom of New Grenada down to the 16th July, have reached Havana. On the 10th, a body of revolutionists, consisting of 500 men, had been completely routed and dispersed. The Spanish general Don Jose Maria Barreiros, was to advance on the following day against the main body of the insurgents, who had been led, no doubt through ignorance, to make a movement, which would, says the general, cause their total destruction, and thereby secure the tranquillity of the kingdom.

The 3000 troops which lately arrived at the Havana, under the command of the new governor, appear destined to garrison the different fortresses of that city. The frigate Sabina, under whose convoy they came, sailed on the 8th instant, for Vera Cruz, we suppose, in quest of treasure.

ROAST BEEF AND PLUM PUDDING.

Lately at Paignton Fair, near Torbay, a plum pudding, of an extraordinary size, was prepared and placed on a car, fancifully decked with ribbands, laurel, &c. and drawn through the town by eight oxen; it was then cut up, and distributed among the populace, conformably to an ancient custom, neglected many years, but thus pleasantly revived. An immense concourse from the neighboring parishes assembled to witness the ceremony, and enjoy the amusements of the fair.—The ingredients which composed this massy pudding were—400 lbs. of flour, 170 lbs. of beef suet, 140 lbs. of raisins, and 20 dozen of eggs; it had been kept constantly boiling in a brewer's furnace, from Saturday morning until Tuesday morning; tin pipes were passed through it to convey the heat, so that the middle and every part should be thoroughly dressed.

A WALK THRO' SWITZERLAND IN 1816.

From the New Monthly Magazine.

This is not the production of an every-day traveller, or of one of those flitting spirits that rove from object to object as they pass through a country, without taking the pains to make any observations and enquiries upon what they behold. The writer of these letters evinces a mind fully harmonized to the various beauties of nature, and capable of expressing the sensations which they impart, in language happily suited to the scenery he describes, and the impressions they have made. Without any pretensions to the character of a man of science, and confessedly unacquainted with the fashionable study of geology, of which indeed he gives a proof by confounding the theorist, Burnet, with the celebrated prelate and historian of that name, he has exhibited a most correct picture of the structure of the Alpine heights of Switzerland. Many of the sketches in this romantic country are highly animated, but for these we must refer the reader to the book itself, and shall here introduce a most touching narrative.

"Gaspar Stoeri, and two of his friends, were one day chasing chamois on Mount Limmeren. While they were traversing the snows with that confidence which the idea of perfect safety inspires, Stoeri sunk into a deep abyss of dissolving ice. His friends were horror-srruck; they conceived that instant death awaited him, or that he would survive only to contemplate its slow, but inevitable approach, pierced as he was by cold—bruised—bleeding—motionless. Despairing of success, they yet reflected on the means by which they might effect his deliverance. They could not leave him to perish; their struggles to save him would for a few moments assuage their agony. They fled to the nearest cottage, which was three miles distant, to procure ropes; none were to be found: a wretched counterpane was the only thing which could prove useful to them; they cut it into strips, and hurried from the cottage.

"Poor Gaspar was almost perishing when they returned to the brink of the chasm; he lay wedged in the bottom of this rugged, deep, and narrow cleft; nearly one half of his body was plunged in ice-water, and such was the depth of it that he could not see its bed; with his arms extended on the broken and melting ice, he awaited approaching death. You may picture his situation: but the horrors of his mind must have been forever confined to his own heart.

"He was almost yielding to the excess of his sufferings, and was commending his soul to the Divinity, when the voices of his companions fell upon his ears; and, as they spoke, they lowered the bandages which they had fastened together. Although dying a few moments before, the hopes—the near prospect of deliverance, gave him energy and courage, and he was enabled to fasten the bandage round his body. His friends drew him gently from the chasm—he was approaching the verge of the precipice—he had almost embraced his deliverers, when the bandage broke, and he again sunk!

"If deliverance was almost hopeless before, what was now poor Stoeri's situation? One half of the bandage had fallen with him—his blood was freezing—the second shock had almost rendered him insensible—and to consummate the terrors of his situation, and for the extinction of the last faint spark of hope, one of his arms was broken by the fall.—What less than a miracle could save him?—With sinking hearts, his friends renewed their endeavors to preserve him; the bandage in their hands was again cut, and lowered into the chasm. Can you conceive the pain and distress with which poor Gaspar made one last and desperate exertion to save himself, when I inform you that with one arm he supported himself from sinking, and that with the other, broken as it was, he twisted the bandage round his body, and fastened it!—He was thus drawn to the summit of the precipice a second time, and life was ebbing fast from him as he fainted in the arms of his companions. Gaspar's friends conveyed him to his cottage; but it was very long before his health and cheerfulness were restored to him."

SPECIMENS OF THE BRITISH POETS.

There is no work to which we looked forward with higher expectations of being gratified and instructed than to Mr. Campbell's Specimens of the British Poets. These hopes were heightened, no doubt, by its long protracted appearance, and the frequency of its announcement. It is therefore with regret we are compelled to acknowledge that our hopes have been much disappointed; and to express our conviction, that however unexceptionable, in some points, Mr. Campbell's work may be, its size alone (seven volumes octavo) will prevent its ever becoming popular. Neither can it boast of any claims of novelty in its recommendation, either with regard to the plan or the manner of its execution.

Of the first volume which comprises an essay on English poetry, little need be said. It gives a lucid, but cursory view of the state of English poetry from the earliest times. In doing this the author displays a considerable degree of taste in bringing forward the more prominent and characteristic features of the history of our poetry, and pleasingly exhibits the merits of the most celebrated poets of whom its history treats. This however is done in a way by far to short, rapid and unsatisfactory, to gratify any reader who feels interested in the subject: and what reader or feels not so! As the author has pretty closely followed the footsteps, and condensed the labors of his predecessor, Ellis, whose chief merit lay in abridging the more extended and diffuse, but valuable materials of Warton, we think Mr. Campbell would have rendered a more acceptable service to the public, had he extended this portion of the work by introducing occasionally specimens of the poetry, and amplyfying his critical remarks.

The subsequent volumes are chiefly made up of extracts. Mr. Campbell intended to exhibit a progressive sequence of the finest passages that occur in the works of the most eminent British poets; and at the same time, to precede these extracts with some general notices of the lives of the authors, and critical observations on their writings.—For this task Mr. Campbell was pre-eminently qualified; for, independently of his professional merits—and as a poet his name was sufficient to recommend any work connected with poetry—and acknowledged acquirements, there were other reasons that induced us to think most favorably of his undertaking, and to anticipate its entire success. He had delivered lectures on the English poetry at the Royal Institution in London, and elsewhere, which were highly recommended; and his engagement to furnish biographical sketches of the most eminent English poets, for a work of great celebrity and usefulness, must of itself have rendered him familiar with the subject. But as was remarked of the Essay, these specimens have no novelty to recommend them. Mr. C. has fallen into the opposite extreme from his predecessors, Oldys, Headly, Ellis, Southey, &c. in frequently making too copious extracts from authors, whose works are in the hands of every reader, while he has excluded others from whose scarcer works he might easily have selected specimens well worthy of a niche. The lives, or rather sketches of the lives of the poets though sufficiently long for Mr. Campbell's purpose, do not contain any new or interesting information. His researches are merely superficial, and are generally confined to the biographical authors best known, and most frequently consulted. His observations and remarks on their writings, in which the great strength of his work ought to have lain, will not, we fear, come up to the public expectation. Neither do we think they fulfil the promise made, of their constituting a complete body of English poetical criticism. In the main they merely repeat what has been said a thousand times, and they want that singleness and individuality necessary to form a code of criticism. To such as are already possessed of books of this kind, these specimens will not be considered as an absolute desideratum, though to others not so happily situated they may be recommended as a valuable acquisition. Mr. C.'s work exhibits a certain portion of ability, judgment, elegance, and taste, joined with the appearance of indolence, or even indifference. It is destitute of that feeling glow, and animated love for the theme which should have pervaded every page, and though set out and adorned in a manner that might have reflected credit on a person not possessed of great original genius, it but too often reminds us of the desire to produce effect without any strenuous exertion.

Alex'a. Common Council
SEPTEMBER 30

A petition from James M. Stewart, was received and read, and referred to Messrs. Ramsay and Mandeville.

An application from Edward Daily, for remission of a tax, was received and read and laid on the table.

In consequence of a communication from the mayor, conveying a recommendation to that effect from the clergy of the town—

Resolved, That Thursday, the 7th of October, be recommended to the citizens of this town as a day of THANKSGIVING AND PRAYER, for the various blessings we enjoy, and that the mayor be requested to issue his proclamation to this effect.

Extract from the minutes,
Test. I. P. THOMPSON, c. c.

AN ACT

To amend the several acts concerning the POOR HOUSE AND WORK HOUSE

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Common Council of Alexandria, That it shall be lawful for the mayor of Alexandria, or any justice of the peace of the county of Alexandria, to commit to the work house of the corporation any person or persons who shall have been required by the mayor, or such justice, to give security for keeping the peace, or to be of good behaviour—there to remain until such security be given, or until he, she or they shall be otherwise discharged by due course of law. And that it shall also be lawful for the said mayor or any such justice, to commit to the work house all persons who shall be liable to confinement under any law for the restraint or punishment of vagrants.

Sec. 2. Be it enacted, That this act shall be in force from and after the passing thereof.

Passed in council this 22d day of September, 1819.

AN ACT

For the issuing of Due Bills in the name of the Corporation of Alexandria, in exchange for an equal number to be cancelled.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Common Council of Alexandria, That the auditor be and he is hereby authorised, to issue Due Bills, under the superintendance of a committee of council, in the name of the corporation, to be signed by the president of the common council, and countersigned by himself, and payable at the bank of Alexandria, to an amount not exceeding twenty thousand dollars, and of the denomination of one dollar.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the auditor shall receive from the treasurer, in exchange for the due bills authorised to be issued by this act, an equal amount of the old issue, which shall be cancelled by a committee of four members of council, to be appointed by the president thereof.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the auditor be, and he is hereby allowed, one hundred and fifty dollars, for signing, registering, and superintending the issuing of the said due bills, to be paid out of any monies in the hands of the treasurer, to the credit of the general fund.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That this act shall commence, and be in force, from and after the passing thereof

Passed in council this 22d day of September, 1819.

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS it has been recommended to the Mayor and Common Council of Alexandria, by the Clergy of the town, that a day be set apart as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer, for the various blessings we enjoy; and the Common Council concurring in this recommendation, have, by an order passed on the 30th day of September, 1819, appointed Thursday, the 7th day of October, to be observed as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer: I do, therefore, recommend to the citizens of this town, that the said 7th day of October, be religiously observed as a day of THANKSGIVING AND PRAYER, to Almighty God, for the blessings we enjoy, and that those blessings may be continued to us.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this 1st day of October, 1819.

POSTSCRIPT.

At two o'clock we received by the ship Manhattan, Capt. Eldridge, our regular files of London papers to the 23d of Aug. We shall only delay the press to give the following:—

Liverpool, Aug. 27.

The two Manchester Magistrates who were deputed to London relative to the disturbance in that town, had returned. A meeting of the Privy Council has been held, and the law officers called upon for their opinion as to the mode of proceeding to be adopted towards Mr. Hunt and the other persons arrested, but they declined giving any opinion, the accounts being so contradictory that they saw they could come to no decision until the facts were laid before them by depositions upon oath. The general opinion in England was, that the magistrates, although actuated by the best intentions, had been precipitate in ordering the yeomanry to act, as the meeting until that moment had been perfectly orderly. It was rumored that Hunt was to be discharged on bail.—He had been twice carried before the magistrates, but each examination was short, and contained nothing in the least interesting.

THE subscriber most respectfully informs the citizens of Alexandria, that his EVENING TUITION will commence at his School Room in Columbus-street, on Monday the 4th inst. To say more on the occasion would be useless; the proofs the public have received of his abilities, his attention, and the general improvement of his pupils, are sufficient. As the school will be limited to twenty, and a number having already applied, those who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity would do well to make immediate application, and none need, except persons of respectable character.

Correct Information.

THE stock advertised for sale by the Mechanics' Bank as standing in our name, is not our property. Our stock note thereon has been continued, under heavy and disproportioned curtailments, ever since March 1818, for the use of the real owner, a respectable mechanic of this place, because he could not obtain leave, upon a transfer, to substitute his stock note for our's. We have no interest in said stock beyond the sum that will retire the said stock note, and we do not think it proper to advance more money than we have done for curtailments.

Valuable Land for Sale.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Superior Court of Chancery for the district of Fredericksburg, in Virginia, the undersigned commissioners will proceed to sell at public auction, upon a credit of one, two, and three years, at Middleburg, in the county of Loudon, on Thursday the 18th day of November next,

4000 Acres of Land,

lying in the neighborhood of Middleburg. The whole land is of that quality termed plaister land, and susceptible of high improvement by the use of it. The whole will be laid out into small tracts, of from two to three hundred acres each, and sold in separate tracts to suit purchasers. The whole is well watered, and no country is more healthy. Captain Pickett, who lives near the land, and who is employed to make a survey of it; and Mr. Sommers, who is the agent for the collection of the rents, will shew the land to those who may be inclined to purchase. Bond and security, and a deed of trust upon each tract, will be required of the purchaser.

Reward.

RAN AWAY, from the subscriber's plantation, in Prince George's county, about the 1st of June, a negro man, named about 35 years of age, six feet high, a very stout, very black, and a remarkably large mouth; wears his beard long; had on an Osnaburg shirt and trowsers, and a new felt hat. I will give the above reward for apprehending and securing said fellow in any jail, so that I get him again, and reasonable charges if brought home.

Notice,

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—to build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which will be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFF.

JOHN HOPKINS

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensels and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

Was Committed,

TO the jail for the county of Alexandria on the 3d inst. as a runaway, a negro man called BEN HENDERSON, supposed to be the property of George Thornton, of King George county. 100 Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again.

100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, a smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bear-skin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. WM HAWLEY, Washington,
Rev. WM. H. WILMER, Alexandria,
Rev. OLIVER NORRIS, Alexandria,
Rev. REUEL KEITH, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publecation will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines. But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity whcih teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26
